

ROM Content Disclosure

For each master forwarded to Raintree, you must provide on this form (a) a description of the CD-ROM or DVD-ROM content, (b) instructions on how to read all directories and open all files in the source media being supplied (the instructions must allow us to decrypt, decompress, determine the file listings of, and execute all executable files contained in the source media) and (c) a list of all software titles included and their copyright owners. If you are not the copyright owner listed on this form, you must attach the license, release or similar document(s) executed by the copyright owner(s) in your favor. Incomplete documentation will cause your order process to be immediately suspended. There are NO EXCEPTIONS to this policy. Attach additional sheets where necessary.

Provide a brief description of the ROM content:
